Notes

To find out where you can get tested in your local area, phone THT Direct on 0808 802 1221.

'Rapid' HIV tests provide results in 30 minutes or less.

- If the result is 'HIV negative', you don't have HIV and you don't need any more tests.
- If the result is 'reactive', this means that you need to have another blood test done.
- An 'HIV positive' result cannot be given from just a rapid HIV test.

Regular health checks allow you to be sure that you are in good health. A health check can include testing to see if you have HIV.

1 You can be tested for free at an NHS sexual health clinic, a GP surgery or a community testing project. When you attend a clinic or hospital for any reason, the doctor may offer you a HIV test.

2 Testing is confidential. It takes place in a private room. If you go to a sexual health clinic or a community testing project, you don't need to give your real name.

3 Before the test, a member of staff should tell you what the test involves and answer any questions you have.

4 You don't have to have the test - it's your choice.

5 For most HIV tests, blood is taken from your arm. Depending on the clinic, the results will be ready within 48 hours or up to two weeks later.

6 Some clinics use a different type of test which needs either a drop of blood from your finger or fluid from your mouth. The result will be ready in a few minutes.

7 If you have recently taken a risk (for example, had sex without a condom), you may be asked to come back for another test in a few months. This is to be sure the result is accurate.

8 When all the necessary tests have been done, the result will be 'HIV negative' or 'HIV positive'.

HIV negative = You don't have HIV

HIV positive = You have HIV

9 If the result is positive, you will be put in touch with medical care and support services.

10 The result is confidential. It will not be given to your family, your employer, the Government or the immigration authorities without your permission.

Important points

- Testing for HIV is free, voluntary and confidential.

- Depending on which type of test is used, the result will be available within two weeks or within 30 minutes.
